1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in Paper dated 9/22/03 is acknowledged.

The traversal is on the ground(s) that the method such and apparatus are sufficiently similar, and the claims are sufficiently few, so that the non-elected apparatus can be examined along with the elected method. Applicants believe that a complete search of the method will also require a search of the site of the apparatus, namely Class 425, subclass 90. This is not found persuasive because although the searches of each invention may overlap, each invention would require unique search areas and considerations leading to an undue burdent to the examiner.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 5-10 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper dated 9/22/03.

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed (i.e. the elected method).

4. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.

Art Unit: 1731

- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

5. Claims 1-5 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 1, step "b", a comma should be inserted after the word "material".

Appropriate correction is required.

6. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is indefinite in that the phrase "b. pressing said quantity of powders to obtain a slab of consistent material" is confusing. First, it is submitted that pressing does not affect the material and thus does not determine whether the material is consistent. Further, it is not understood how the material can be described as consistent when it is made from powders (plural). If the powders are distinguishable from each other, whether it be chemically or physically, they cannot produce a consistent product by simply pressing.

In claim 2, the phrase "at a pressure preferably between..." is indefinite because it is unclear whether these pressures are actually required. Thus, the metes and bounds of the claims cannot be readily determined.

In claim 3, the phrase "at a pressure preferably between..." is indefinite because it is unclear whether these pressures are actually required. Thus, the metes and bounds of the claims cannot be readily determined.

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1731

9. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art (page 1 of present specification) in view of Principles of Ceramics Processing by Reed .

The admitted prior art teaches that it is known to prepare a mass of powders, precompacting the mass to obtain a flat blank, depositing on the blank at least a second layer of powders to form a surface decoration, and finally pressing the decorated blank to obtain the tile.

The admitted prior art does not specifically disclose the amount of compaction, nor does it disclose the claimed pressing pressures.

Principles of Ceramics Processing by Reed teaches the pressing of ceramic materials in Chapter 22 (pages 418-445). Figure 22.6, for example, shows the pressed density and pressing pressures for producing a tile body. The pressing pressures lie within the claimed ranges. Note also that the percentage change in density appears to lie within the claimed range of percentage change in thickness. Note also that since the mass and mold shape are not changed, the thickness is the only variable changing during the pressing process. Thus the relationship between the change in density and the change in thickness is linear.

Further note that the second pressing step meets the limitation of claim 4 in that any direction produced by moving the slab from the mold would be different from the pressing direction and the change in orientation caused thereby.
